

PRESIDENT TAKEN ILL WITH SEVERE COLD

ALLIED ARMIES IN GRAVE PERIL

British Public Learns That Serious Situation Exists On Two Russian Fronts.

RED DANGER IS REAL

Sir Ernest Shackleton, Who Has Just Returned From Archangel and Murman, Says Reinforcements Must Be Sent.

London, April 4.—For the first time the curtain has been raised for the British public on the position of the Allied armies in Northern Russia. The serious situation in the Murmansk region and the attempt by the Bolsheviks to drive the Allied troops on the Archangel front into the sea are the cause of much anxiety. The London papers carried startling headlines of which "The British Army Imperiled" was typical.

The public bought the papers eagerly, having no idea which army was referred to. Some of the papers declared that another Kut surrender or Khartoum tragedy threatened. Sir Ernest Shackleton, director of equipment and transportation of the Northern Russian Expeditionary force, has just returned from Murman and Archangel. He declares that both fronts are in danger and that the Bolshevik danger is a very real one, because the Entente forces are outnumbered by disciplined, well armed and well equipped troops in close touch with the Allies' extended, but by no means strong front.

Urges Immediate Re-enforcements. "We must avoid the possibility of another Khartoum," says Sir Ernest. He urges the need of sending reinforcements immediately. These, he says, can reach Murmansk from England in less than a week.

Failure of the offensive in the direction of Tukum, in Courland, west of Riga, is admitted by the Russian soviet government in a wireless message received here today.

The message adds that fighting is in progress in the direction of Mitau, southwest of Riga, and in the region of Pskov, northeast of Riga. Dispatches from Omsk report that during the last few days the Bolsheviks have been retreating on the Orenburg front so rapidly that the Siberian armies in pursuit are unable to keep in touch. Bolshevik desertions continue. As an example, 50 miles south of Ufa a whole regiment of Bolshevik cavalry joined Kolchak's forces and turned their weapons upon their former comrades.

BAVARIA SEEKING ALLIANCE

Said to Have Opened Negotiations With Russian Reds.

Berlin, April 4.—The Bavarian government has begun negotiations for the conclusion of an alliance with Russia, according to advices from Munich.

The Bavarian Volks Zeitung explains that the government's action is due to the food supplies from the Allies being insufficient and inadequately assured, whereas grain is obtainable from Russia.

The Tages Zeitung reports the Hungarian dictator, Bela Kun, arrived in Munich, Bavaria, Wednesday, accompanied by a large suite. This report has not been confirmed.

Zurich, April 4.—Documents found in the archives of the Austrian foreign office relate to a conversation between Count Czernin, then Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and General Ludendorff, at that time commander-in-chief of the German armies, a Vienna dispatch reported.

Ludendorff replied: "If you try that I will march on Vienna."

3.—Allied investments for development of exploited wealth in Russia and for reconstruction of Russian industries.

4.—Allied aid in establishing a new monetary system in Russia.

Question of Furnishing Supplies to Hungary and Russia Considered by "Big Four"—Bolsheviks May Cease Hostilities.

Paris, April 4.—According to information from French sources, the council of four has virtually decided that the left bank of the Rhine will be neutralized until Germany has paid the indemnities fixed by the peace conference.

It is understood French and Belgian troops will hold this territory, the United States claiming it to be impossible to leave American troops in Europe after the signature of the peace treaty and England having insufficient effective troops to maintain garrisons along the Rhine.

It is surmised the visit of King Albert of Belgium to Paris was not unconnected with the share that Belgian troops will be asked to undertake in this territory.

League Committee to Meet

The drafting committee of the League of Nations commission has finished work, but has not passed on the French amendments to Articles VIII and IX, as well as American and Japanese suggestions as to the Monroe doctrine and the equality of nationalities.

The Echo de Paris says the council of four believes that Germany will be able to pay immediately $1,200,000,000 in money of various kinds. Deliveries of raw materials and manufactured goods from Germany, it says, will reach an undetermined sum, which some optimists estimate will amount to $5,000,000,000.

Food for Hungary.

Paris, April 4.—Important economic concessions to the soviet governments in Russia and Hungary are being considered by the "Big Four."

The Allies, it was understood, are practically convinced that the situation in these two countries demands immediate attention and that some sort of understanding with their present government is as urgent as peace with Germany.

Food shipments to Hungary and Russia and coal exportation to Hungary probably will constitute the Allies' initial move to check the westward spread of Bolshevism.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Dispatch:

Of course people should not destroy boulevards, or anything else for that matter, in their eagerness to save time by making short cuts, but in these days of living and hustle no one will voluntarily travel a longer distance to gain a given point when a shorter route is available. It is the one principle of human nature that will not be fooled. Our new Gull lake road is a pointed example of this principle. Although the route of the new road was established in 1916, and that too, over the earnest protest by petition, which protest signed by every resident farmer between Brainerd and Gull lake, is still on file in the auditor's office,
the general public are still traveling our old Gull lake country road because human nature is so strongly averse to making a long detour, after having for more than 25 years had the benefit of a much shorter road, which road still is, and always will be available.

DISCHARGE PAPERS

Register of Deeds May Record Discharge Papers, if Bill So Authorizing is Passed

A bill has been introduced in the Minnesota legislature which, if it is passed, will authorize the recording of certificates. The passage of this bill, navy and marine corps of the United States in the office of the Register of Deeds of the counties in the state by the persons to whom the discharge was issued.

Under the present laws, registration as being done in these counties is not prima facie (on the first view) evidence of the holding of a discharge and state courts need not take judicial notice of certified copies of discharge certificates. The passage of this bill, however, will make the records of such papers sufficient evidence of service to entitle discharged men to base claims for preference under land laws and other acts for the benefit of soldiers that may hereafter be passed.

It is good legislation and significant in view of the fact that few soldiers realize the importance of their discharge papers of a permanent record of their service and discharge with honor.

JEROME SPIERING

Brainerd Man Who Saw Nine Months
Service Across the Water, Visiting at St. Cloud

The St. Cloud Journal-Press has this reference to Jerome Spiering, formerly superintendent of the gas plant at Brainerd:

Jerome Spiering, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Spiering of Crookston, former residents of this city, who has been in the service the past year, spending 9 months across the water, has been mustered out of the army and is visiting friends here today.

The young man was stationed in the searchlight division and has many interesting tales to relate about the work in this branch of the service.

These searchlights were 60 inches across and they throw a beam 10 to 12 miles. He says the German aviators were exceptionally daring and many of them were shot down. On several occasions a big flock of the Boche machines would fly overhead and drop bombs. It was an easy matter for the Americans to distinguish the difference between the Allied and German planes. Mr.
Spiering was near the front line in the St. Mihiel and Argonne Forest battles. His brother, Clemens, lost his life in the St. Mihiel drive, being gassed and died a week or so later from the deadly effects. Jerome entered the service at Brainerd, where he was manager of the gas plant, in February 1918. He sailed across last June. He returned to this country on March 14th. Mr.
Spiering will return to Crookston this evening to enjoy a rest at the home of his parents.

"THE SQUAW MAN" TONIGHT

Cecil B. De Mille, Producer of the Photoplay, Provides Most Adequate Cast

No photoplay produced in recent years presents a better cast of screen players than that employed by Cecil B. De Mille in his superb production of "The Squaw Man," a picturization of Edwin Milton Royle's famous stage play, which will be presented at the Best theatre today. From start to finish, the cast in this photoplay is made up of stars or players of stellar importance.

Elliott Dexter is in the stellar role, with Ann Little playing opposite to him as the Indian girl. Katherine MacDonald, Theodore Roberts, Jack Holt, Thurston Hall, Tully Marshall and others have exceptionally strong parts. Nearly all of those named have been seen in many of the more famous picture productions.

The picture is a re-production of the photoplay which Mr. De Mille produced four years ago, but it has changed so extensively and its improvements are so marked, that it is in every sense a new production.

Water is used to transport fine coal through pipes, and in Oregon a blast of air is used to load hay in freight cars. The hay is drawn up to a deck or float beside the car to be loaded, a crane then lifts the hay to this platform, and a blower, driven by a gasoline engine, blows the hay forcibly into the car, packing it better than can be done with old-fashioned hand fork.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

VICTORY LOAN GIVEN IMPETUS

Program of Block Workers Held at Chamber of Commerce Rooms on Thursday Evening

ENTHUSIASM IS KINDLED

Tickets to be Sold by Block Workers for "Our Teddy" to be Given April 10 at Park Theatre

The block workers program given at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening fanned patriotic enthusiasm to a white heat and argued well for the success of the coming Victory Loan campaign. Called originally to apportion tickets to the various block workers who are to canvass Brainerd and gain full houses at the Park theatre when "Our Teddy" is presented April 10, the meeting was also one of rare patriotic fervor.

Money gained from the presentation of "Our Teddy" will be used to finance Victory Loan campaign expenses.

Mrs. Ben S. Armstrong presided at the meeting. The community singing was led by Hon. S. F. Alderman with his daughter, Mrs. Walter F. Wieland, at the piano.

"Thrill in Rhyme," an original poem by Miss Louise Barrett, principal of the Whittier school, was read and evoked applause for its fine sentiments conveyed. The poem appears in another column and its publication will be appreciated by the many who heard it read.

The singing of the high school girls' chorus was especially good. Their songs had original words. They sang "Thanksgiving Loan Chorus" and "Dollars to Win." They were directed by Miss Winifred Krank, music supervisor of the public schools.

Sam English, lately returned from the Toul sector in France, where he served in the engineers corps, gave a fine talk on how glad the boys were to get back home and the reception accorded them at Newport News.

The sale of Liberty bonds was watched with intense interest by the soldiers over there, for it showed that the home state was backing them up. The boys at the front could not have won without the backing of the home people, said Mr. English.

Mrs. W. C. Cobb's subject concerned anecdotes of the Liberty Loan meeting called in Minneapolis by A. R. Rogers two weeks ago when men and women liberty loan workers received instructions.

Her recital of events there stirred her audience. The ladies expect to sell a thousand or more tickets for the film story "Our Teddy" to be given April 10. A school children's matinee will be given and assurances are extended even now that the virile story of Roosevelt will pack the home with young citizens of Brainerd.

The Thanksgiving Loan, Mrs. W. C. Cobb, Crow Wing county chairman of the Women's Liberty Loan committee, said in part:

"We have finished the war but have we finished our job? By no means—not until every homesick boy has been brought home; not until every wounded boy has been brought back to health; not until every maimed boy, who has given limbs, or sight, or hearing that the world might be freed from the curse of militarism, has been re-educated and has found employment that will enable him to become a self-respecting citizen.

"All this we must do, and more. We must help bleeding France reclaim her once fertile fields from the shell-torn battle ground, we must rebuild the homes that have been shattered that our homes five thousand miles away might be safe.

"How are we to do all this? By the daily practice of thrift. Not by doing without what we need, but by cutting out waste, and by heedful instead of heedless buying. You have heard of the famous cook who always added this post-script to his much-prized receipts: 'Mix the ingredients with brains.' Now we must put brains into the family budget. Yes, and let us put heart into it, too. When making it out for the year 1919, let us set aside a generous thank offering that shall take the very practical form of victory bonds. This may well be called a Thanksgiving Loan. How thankful we are that we can give of our own free will, instead of being compelled to pay an indemnity to the conquering Hun. Think of the fear that filled our hearts a year ago when the Kaiser fixed a day to enter Paris. Few of us realize how near he came to carrying out that threat. Three times the allied council decided that they would have to make the best terms possible with the enemy, and those terms would probably have been nothing short of unconditional surrender. Twice, they were persuaded to hold on a little longer until our boys could be trained. The third time they said: 'We can't hold out any longer, we will have to give up—the Americans are not ready.' But Pershing said: 'Try us and see. Give me just six hours with our boys fighting under their own flag, before you decide to surrender.' They agreed to do this, and those six hours changed the whole face of the world. Perhaps it will help us to make this thank offering a little larger if we realize that we were within six hours of defeat. Let us give thanks that our boys were ready at this crucial time and were able to turn defeat into victory. Let us give thanks that we are permitted to give to a Victory Loan instead of being compelled to turn our hard-earned savings into Hun coffers. Let us remember with hearts filled with thankfulness, that:

"V stands for victory that our own boys have won,
V stands for fifth—the loan that brings them home,
We stand for thrift till all war's scars are healed—
Till France's shell-torn acres become a fertile field."

EVANGELIST DESCRIBES "SLEEPING SICKNESS"

"Ushered in suddenly by fainting attack or fit, or more often, gradual onset. Patient dazed or stupid, very sleepy, eyelids heavy, pain in the eyes, blurred vision and photophobia, giddiness, often hysterical or the reverse, mental depression so great that melancholia follows. Indisposition to speak, difficulty in articulation. The patient lies in bed on his back, without voluntary movement, face expressionless and masklike. The severest cases lie in bed like a log, resembling a wax image, lacking expression and often accompanied by cataplexy. The voice becomes nasal and monotonous, words slurred into one another. Occasionally the patient chatters with so great rapidity that the words are unintelligible. Irregular nonrhythmic spontaneous movements of the face—there you have a few of the symptoms of 'The Sleeping Sickness.'"

"There are cases in Brainerd! Spiritual sleeping sickness," explained Evangelist Nygren, "and the symptoms are about the same putting a spiritual interpretation to the description just given," he added.

The attendance is on the increase and the seating capacity of the church will be taxed this evening. Rev. P. Alfred Peterson made the announcements and received the collection for the local expense last evening and Rev. M. L. Hostager of the Bethlehem Lutheran church offered a fervent prayer. Mr. Nygren said that to wake up and get up are two different and distinct things. He illustrated this by referring to the hearers experience with the alarm clock as it rings in the morning, but how some "choke it" and turn over and snore again. "There are many" said the evangelist, "who have been awakened by the spirit of God, but have not gotten up—they have fallen asleep again. Hush! Just a little more quiet! s-n-a-r-l, s-n-a-r-l, can't you hear them snore? Some folks are asleep and dream that they are awake, up and doing!"

Mr. Nygren illustrated calling people who are asleep and said that many get angry when you call them. "Get up!" shouted the evangelist to an imaginary person on the platform, the answer came drowsily, "Al-right," the evangelist waited and again shouted "Get up!"—answer, "I'm coming," again he cried, "Get up!" when the answer came, "What's the matter with you? Can't you let a fellow sleep just a few seconds? Let me alone!" "There you are," said the evangelist, "people like to sleep, but my text are the word of Jesus, 'Arise, let us be going.'"

The service this evening is of utmost importance. Mr. Nygren will speak on the subject, "A Cloud Out of the Sea." Mrs. Nygren conducted prayer and children's meetings this afternoon. Mr. Nygren conducted a noon-day shop meeting.

A Little Song of Thrift

What won the war?
When little Belgium gripped her sword
And vowed she'd stop the Hun's brute horde,
'Twas thrift that held her lines. She knew Impertinent France could hold hers, too.
'Twas thrifty Belgium!

What won the war?
Heroic France quick spring to arms
At sound of warfare's first alarms,
Her people, trained to earn and save Their treasured wealth for Freedom gave,
'Twas thrifty France!

What won the war?
Old England's Bank with gold in store
Gave from its treasures more and more,
Her thrifty people stored that gold
To forge a chain for tyrant bold.
'Twas thrifty England!

What won the war?
On far Italia's vine-clad slopes
A people, roused by brightest hopes,
Gave of their all: then firmly trod
The path of martyrdom to God.
'Twas thrifty Italy!

What won the war?
Across the seas there came a call
'Shall Freedom's glorious banner fall?
Shall free men feel the mailed hand
And cringe before a brute's command?'
Not Freedom-born America!

What won the war?
America at last gave heed;
At last, she felt the Old World's need;
All of her treasures, great and small Gave answer to that heart-wrung call.
'Twas generous America!

What won the war?
A hundred million hearts, as one,
Took up the task, 'twas said, 'twas done!
No self-indulgence, no retreat,
With joy we sped, the foe to meet.
'Twas wide awake America!

What won the war?
Two million men across the sea,
The nation's pledge to Liberty;
The meanness, sweetness, heatless days,
The new-found, self-denying ways,
For glorious America!

What won the war?
The great uplift to visions high;
The vow that Freedom should not die.
The love that held thro blood and tears
The "faith triumphant o'er our fears."
Our altar-gift, America!

What won the war?
These lessons that, at last, we learned,
That nothing saved is nothing earned,
That thrift is Fortune's corner-stone,
That oaks are only acorns grown,
Learned by America!

What wins this War?
THIS VICTORY LOAN! By this we win
The conflict we set out to win.
The fighting's done, the lesson's learned,
Cold hearts to hearts of flesh have turned,
And victory, that with thrift we earned,
Gives us a NEW America!
God's blessing on America!

AMPHIBIOUS MINNESOTA

The proposed state song before the legislature boldly proclaimed a trait of Minnesota, that of being amphibian, which was not relished by some critics.

Concerning the song, the St. Cloud Journal-Press comments editorially like this:

Gov. Burnquist is receiving many thanks by the state press for vetoing that alleged Minnesota state song.

Editor Charley Mitchell of the Duluth News-Tribune opines that the song reaches its climax in the chorus:

"When the sun shines on the waters
The diamond sparkle there,
Where the loyal sons and daughters
Are first in peace and war."

"If this is a part of the Ten Thousand Lakes propaganda," writes Bro. Mitchell, "the inference that the sons and daughters of the state are proclaiming to the rest of the world 'come on in, the water's fine,' may be understood." It also might be an intimation that when the subjects of peace and war are considered that Minnesotans take to the water, which is of course a libel. Fortunately the governor's "I forbid" has saved the state from this slander as well as from a very inferior and ungrammatical state song.

STANDARD WIDTH SLEIGH

The house of representative has settled the standard width sleigh question, which has been before the legislature two sessions, and has passed the senate bill. If signed by the governor, it will be unlawful to use the present narrow width sleigh after January 1, 1921. After that date sleighs shall not be less than 48 inches wide.

The use of a width of general standard will do much to preserve roads.

"V"

Stands for FIFTH or VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN

"The money that was spent scaring Germany to death is the money spent with our approval. Let's pay the debt and finish the job."

(Edited by the Crow Wing County Liberty Loan Organization.)

Tanks and Fliers.

In Minneapolis the opening of the Victory Liberty Loan campaign April 21 will be preceded by a spectacular military program and arrangements are now being made for a parade, headed by 20 giant war tanks, driven by returned overseas men. Simultaneously, 25 northwest fliers, most of whom have to their credit several foe planes, will encircle the city before speeding off to visit the principal towns and cities of the district as part of the campaign.

The parade will include virtually all the civic and social clubs of the city and the prominent war work organizations.

The fliers, who have formed a voluntary organization to work in the interest of the Loan campaign, will have general supervision of flying activities on behalf of the committee throughout the district. They have offered their services to the committee for the full period of the campaign.

Of the group already enrolled, all but one are from Minneapolis. One of the fliers, Adjutant Rufus R. Rand, former member of the Lafayette escadrille, has five foe planes on his list, accredited unofficially.

Protect Bond Buyers

Thousands of attorneys throughout the United States are to be asked to volunteer their efforts in the government campaign to protect Liberty bondholders from fake stock investment schemes.

One large organization already has proceeded to notify its membership to this end.

The lawyers will be asked to send at once to the federal trade commission the names, addresses and "literature" of stock peddlers seeking to induce Liberty bondholders to "exchange" their bonds for questionable securities.

Can you look the boy from "over there" in the eye if you fail to do your share in paying the bills that saved his life?

Patriotism Demands Victory Liberty Loan Subscriptions.

Loyalty to America demands that every man, woman or child who is able, buy Victory Liberty Loan securities to his limit.

The "Victorious Fifth" will test the peace-time patriotism of America.

Is the patriotism, which so largely entered into the remarkable oversubscription of the four previous loans a garment our people put on for eighteen months and then cast aside?

We have unshakable faith that patriotism is an abiding force in every American heart. We predict that it will prompt the same generous, sacrificing efforts that gave our people pre-eminence during the days of fighting. The war was a job "wished" on us by the boche, but it was our job. The fighting part of the job is done. Our honored dead and our victorious returning troops are evidence of the thoroughness with which that part of the job was done.

Now, in order that our heroes "may not have died in vain," we must finish the job, pay our debts, and leave the Government free to carry on its financial program through ordinary means.

"There is no limit to the duty of a man where his country needs him."

By saving and subscribing to the Victory Liberty Loan only can you do your duty to your Government and prove that your patriotism is the kind that works even when your son or brother or yourself is not in danger.

After all, when you subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan you are not giving anything. You are merely saving and investing in the world's safest securities, and building prosperity for yourself, your family, community, and nation.

Hold Your Liberty Bonds

From a Treasury Department bulletin: The effort to separate Liberty bond holders not familiar with stock and bond values from their Liberty bonds has taken a new turn. The manipulators instead of offering to buy the bonds at inadequate prices offer in exchange for them the stocks and bonds of various wildcat corporations, whose face value is large, but whose actual value is little or nothing.

The safest investment in the world is a Liberty Bond. For a patriotic American, Liberty Bonds are the best investment in the world. It is not only a wise thing to hold them, it is a patriotic thing to do. The soldier that takes a trench and then voluntarily gives it up is not to be compared with one who takes a trench and holds it against the enemy. An American who buys a Liberty Bond and then sells it is not so good an American as one who buys a bond and keeps it. This does not apply, however, to one who sells his bond because of real necessity as there is legitimate trading in Liberty bonds which the treasury recognizes.

So now, all together! Sure, we'll finish the job!

Y. M. C. A. HAS ANNUAL SESSION

Directors Re-Elected, Prof. W. C. Cobb Added to the Board at Thursday Meeting

BANQUET ENJOYED BY 100

Speakers Voiced Need of Enlarging the Building to Conform With Brainerd Progress

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., directors were elected for the new term, a banquet was enjoyed and the diners listened to addresses by prominent business, professional and shop men.

Edward Crust presided. A seven-piece orchestra discoursed sweet music.

"Y" DIRECTORS
ELECTED THURSDAY

Edward Crust
A. J. Hayes
John Leak
John A. Erickson
John Larson
W. C. Cobb.

Speakers voiced the need of an enlarged building and none more forcefully than A. J. Hayes, who said Brainerd's "Y" reminded him of the boy who had outgrown his pants. The city needed a bigger "Y" to match up with the new court house and other improvements. In conclusion he read letters from boys over there complimenting the Y. M. C. A. for services rendered.

Rev. Hans J. Wolner spoke of the good done by the Cloquet "Y". It has been a place of entertainment for Cloquet's old and young men. It was a commodious building, well ventilated and it offered instruction and recreation.

Fred T. Lincoln said the Y. M. C. A. and the Chamber of Commerce were constructive agencies. He spoke of the "Y" work at Grand Forks. He pledged the cooperation of the Chamber in assisting the Y. M. C. A. for a larger building.

Rev. W. J. Lowrie said the Y. M. C. A. meant much for the spiritual welfare of Brainerd. The word Christian in the association name loomed large and should never be forgotten no matter how many gyms or swimming pools were needed.

W. C. Cobb told of experiences in the Y. M. C. A. and humorously alluded to the work of early secretaries.

Rev. R. E. Cody pleaded for a better and larger building. It was a critical time for the institution and its further expansion required better housing.

J. A. Wilson spoke of the early days of the association in the city.

Rev. Errington of the First Congregational church, who had been a soldier at camp, spoke of the good the "Y" had done.

Other speakers were Arthur Benson, a returned soldier; D. D. Schraeder, M. W. Downie, Judge Walter F. Wieland, George E. Lowe, Harry Fullerton and Alfred Dillan.

STRANGE EXPLOITS OF SCIENCE IN BATTLE

Sam English in Engineers Corps Worked in the "Flash and Sound" Battalion

LOCATED GERMAN BIG GUNS

Computed Distances by Mathematical Work, Microphones Set up Along Front Lines

Sam English, Brainerd boy in the engineers corps who was a member of the famous "Flash and Sound Rangers," has revealed in Brainerd how their work assisted to locate big guns of the Germans and such information communicated to the Yank batteries soon silenced the Big Berthas.

He was a member of the 7th Engineers and on his return to Brainerd lifted the veil of secrecy which has shrouded that flash and sound organization, unfolding a tale of scientific exploits on the battlefield which reads almost like a Jules Verne story.

The flash and sound organization located enemy guns on the west front by timing the flash of the gun and the roar as the shell left the weapon.

Its operations were secret and this is the first time that the men have been allowed to even mention to what organization they belonged.

Microphones were set up all along the front lines. These sound detecting machines were linked to a central station further in the rear. The detectors recorded sounds to the hundredth part of a second and with them the American artillery was enabled to locate hidden German batteries and score direct hits.

The organization, just out of a training camp in France, was stationed in the Toul sector when the Germans started the great drive which was the beginning of their defeat. Members of the unit say the Boche had superiority of the air and that the American and Allied plans and balloons were unable to go up to locate many batteries.

On information furnished by the flash and sound unit the American artillery laid down its first barrage, a feat that went down in history as one of the most perfectly executed of the war.

The flash unit of the organization went with the American infantry all through the Chateau Thierry drive, locating enemy guns by calculating the time the sound was heard, the time it was seen and the speed with which sound, light and projectiles travel. The men were cited by the Major General commanding the Americans in that sector for their excellent work.

The 74th went all the way from Chateau Thierry to Penta Mouson. The unit was organized at Fort Meuse in January, 1918. Company B, Twenty-ninth Engineers had been designated for this work, and forty men of the 116th Engineers were taken as a nucleus for the organization.

Easter Garments

As Easter is late this year, more women than usual will wear new spring garments on that day. There are yet two other reasons why the new styles will be more prevalent; First, during the war period last year many loyal women refrained from making purchases that were not absolutely necessary. Then the styles are so different this year that women are more attracted to them.

And these new styles are very pretty. They are entirely different from last years and from previous seasons. It would seem that the designers have been accumulating new features for this time.

We will show all these new featnres on Saturday. All at reasonable prices too.

H. F. Michael Co.

SATURDAY will be the biggest day of all big days of our big water damage sale. We positively will not allow a single piece of furniture damaged to even the slightest degree to remain unsold upon our floors after Saturday night. If the slashes we have made in our prices already are not big enough---you can slash them some more. This is the biggest sale we ever held in our history---the sales have been enormous. We want our best customers to get a chance at these bargains. We have not quoted a single price in the newspapers---we don't want to---this is a unique sale, and the furniture is selling itself. Again we ask those who have bought to be patient for deliveries. Three men are getting goods off the floor as fast as humanly possible.

VETERINARIANS TO MEET IN CITY

State Convention, Annual Summer Meeting, in Brainerd Wednesday and Thursday, July 9-10

LOCAL PLANS ARE ARRANGED

Sessions to be Held at Chamber of Commerce Rooms-Entertainment for Visiting Ladies

Another convention for Brainerd. The annual summer meeting of the Minnesota State Veterinary association will be held in this city Wednesday and Thursday, July 9 and 10, bringing to Brainerd one hundred or more prominent veterinarians and stock experts, many of them accompanied by their ladies. The convention was secured through the efforts of Dr. C. A. Nelson, president of the association and a member of the board of trustees and the Chamber of Commerce.

The local committee will at once begin plans for the entertainment of the visitors, trips to some of the leading dairy and stock farms of this locality will be arranged, and a fine opportunity to advertise this locality as a dairy center is to be afforded.

The sessions will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, entertainment for the visiting ladies will be provided for by a local committee and every detail carefully planned and carried out.

This is the second convention scheduled for this city this year, the district convention of the Sons of Norway having been listed for June.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Park Theatre Tonight

What would a Rex Beach drama be without a conflict? Always there is a terrific clash of wills and often a physical fight comes in some part of the play. The wonderful battle in "The Spoilers" never will be forgotten, and in "The Auction Block" and "Heart of the Sunset" there was no lack of violent action, while in "Too Fat to Fight" of course the scenes of battle furnished excitement of another kind. Yet in "The Brand" Rex Beach declares that there is the strongest clash of all because the mental condition of the combatants is more acute. He has pictured his popular novel for Goldwyn and it appeared at the Park theatre last night and again tonight for the last time.

The situation bringing about the fight in itself is unique. It involves characters strange to Alaskan scenes—a vaudeville actor and his girl partner from New York. She is miserable amid the hardships of the Yukon and when the man fails to get her consent to accompany him into the heart of the country, he leaves her to whatever fate may befall her. She marries an oldtimer—a man who has been seeking for gold all his life. Soon she tires of him when she realizes that he can offer her none of the comforts of civilized life.

Eventually the actor returns and is confronted by the disconcerting fact of the girl's marriage. It does not stay him, however, and he takes advantage of her misery to renew his relations with her. In time the husband discovers this and when accused the girl admits everything, pleading her loneliness and longing for the man who after all understands her best. Her husband gradually responds to her arguments and refrains from wreaking his fury on the interloper. But he says the place is too small for the three of them so he sends the girl and her lover out into the raging blizzard.

Later they come together again. The husband is in a bar-room when his wife and the actor are brought in by men who have rescued them from the fury of the elements. It is then that the husband's rage kindles anew and he springs at his exhausted rival after the latter has defied him. With his powerful hands on the throat of the actor there seems to be but one outcome. The air fairly crackles with electricity—an effect which is communicated to the audience.

The tension is relieved when the husband releases his hold only because his wife implores him to be merciful. This is only a prelude to the big scene in "The Brand," from which the drama gets its title. The miner husband fights with his enemy and brands his forehead with the butt of his revolver.

At the Best Tomorrow

The latest Paramount-Mack Sennett comedy, "Never Too Old" which is a prime feature of the bill at the Best theatre tomorrow, is a screaming farce which will amply repay a visit to Manager Workman's playhouse. The story is a good one and the comedy as a whole is as clean as a brand's tooth. Charlie Murray, Bert Rouch, Eva Thatcher and Marie Prevost supply the fun.

150,000 WORKERS OUT

Labor Tieup in Berlin Is Surprise to Government.

Walkout Follows Appeal for Demonstration Against "Brutal Military Rule"—20 Killed in Stuttgart.

Berlin, April 4.—The general strike in Berlin is under way, more than 150,000 workers having gone out. The metal trades were the first to quit, being immediately followed by several other trades unions.

While the strike had been anticipated for several days, it was believed it might be postponed until next week and the sudden walkout caught the government forces unprepared. There was no violence, however, and the city is quiet so far.

The Freiheit published the following appeal of the radicals central committee:

"Workmen and workwomen, rise and demonstrate against the brutal military government which is gradually placing the entire land under a state of siege.

"The government is forbidding workmen's meetings and is not hindering the demonstrations of the reactionaries."

Reports reaching here indicate that disturbances have been renewed in Stuttgart and Frankfurt with greater vigor than before. More than 20 persons have been killed and 50 wounded in Stuttgart. Business is completely at a standstill. Crowds swarmed thru the streets, storming army food wagons. Government troops are maintaining the upper hand by means of machine guns, bristling from buildings and armored motorcars. A battery of tanks is assisting in patrolling the streets.

In Frankfurt hundreds of persons have been arrested. Loss from plundering is estimated at more than $1,000,000.

SEES PEACE PLAN BY EASTER

Stephen Pinchot, French Foreign Minister Reiterates Opinion.

Paris, April 4.—"I have always thought and think more than ever now that the peace preliminaries to be imposed on Germany will be ready before Easter, unless something unexpected arises," said Stephen Pinchot, foreign minister, in his reply to questioners at a banquet given by French republican journalists, according to the Matin.

Let the Children Grow. Coughs, colds, "snuffles," that hang on tend to weaken the system and a suffering, neglected child spends so much strength combating a cold that the little one cannot grow as fast and sound in body as when free from affliction. Foley's Honey and Tar is splendid for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough. H. P. Dunn. mwf

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have. Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
